Chapter I

General Instructions

Peer evaluation is required to validate any work experience project:

You must submit a presentation video about your work experience, uploaded to a platform such as YouTube, Dailymotion, etc., and include the link in a file named 'video' within your Git repository.

The goal of this video is to provide a brief presentation of what happened during your work experience. The video must be 4 to 5 minutes long. It must include a presentation created with any tool of your choice (PowerPoint, Prezi, Keynote, etc.), and should show your face—or ideally, your full body. An introduction and conclusion where you appear alone is acceptable.

This video must be as professional as if you were presenting in front of the board of directors of a major company.

You will be graded on the quality of your slides, your presentation skills, the overall video quality, and its delivery.

The content must follow these guidelines:

- A new member is joining the board of directors: you need to explain the company's general context, its specific situation, the challenges faced, the content, and the outcomes of your work experience project(s).
- The new member must be able to clearly understand your explanation.
- The board is considering internal promotions and is here to evaluate YOU. It's important to highlight your involvement in the project and showcase your strengths, both technical and interpersonal.

Note: Peer video evaluations can be completed asynchronously. There is no meeting between the learner being evaluated and the reviewer. However, a campus may locally override this rule and organize evaluations differently.
